This includes repeal of the requirement for including a regional inflation adjustment in the calculation of nursing facility rates and the requirement for rebasing of nursing facility rates every two years. It also clarifies reimbursement adjustment and rebasing for essential worker reimbursement to be under and consistent with 22 M.R.S.A. 3173-J. It establishes exceptions to the rate setting process for rate adjustments required by law, payments authorized by the federal government in urgent circumstances, or rate reductions resulting from budget short falls. It permits comparative benchmarking to occur on a schedule consistent with that required by federal law and regulation. It also defines how inflation and cost of living indices should be used when establishing and implementing cost-of-living adjustments in order to provide for greater budget predictability. This Part also repeals the requirement that the department must adopt a rule specifying a cost-of-living adjustment methodology, and allows the department to establish rules under this section that incorporate by reference sources in addition to those permitted by Title 5, chapter 375, subchapter 2, section 8056(1)(B)(1), and exempting these rules from the requirements of Title 5, chapter 375, subchapter 2, section 8056(1)(B)(2)-(4). It also defines a process for prioritizing rate adjustments when funds are limited.
